Thanks for a great week of camp!

In case you missed it, we're part of a project called Rhythms of Faith. The Rhythms of Faith Project seeks to empower parents and caregivers in family faith formation by leveraging the power of camp experiences.

We're so glad your camper(s) joined us this summer for camp. Covenant Point is one of nine camps nationwide participating in a groundbreaking initiative to support parents and caregivers in nurturing faith at home. Through the Rhythms of Faith Project, we're exploring how camp experiences can spark and sustain meaningful rhythms of faith in family life.

This survey is for parents or guardians like you. Your honest responses will help us better understand your family's experiences and evaluate the impact of this project—not just for your camper, but for families across the country. The insights you share will help shape future camp programs and support faith formation beyond the campfire.
